YUBA RIVER CANYON'S PICTURESQUE HIGHWAY

The recently completed Federal Highway between Downieville, Sierra City, the Yuba Summit and Stattley, in Sierra Valley, represents 31 miles of mountain scenery which in sheer beauty and granduer equals that of the most outstanding scenic spots on the North American continent. Travel where you will, you will never be thrilled any more than along this trip. Where formerly a narrow twisting precipitous one-way mountain road allowed only the most venturesome and hardy to see this scenic gem, todays 20 foot wide road makes available to every motorist a region surpassingly magnificent.

Leaving Downieville the highway makes a sweeping turn and finds itself alongside the North Fork of the Yuba River. The canyon walls grow increasingly sheer. Massive cuts hewn out of solid rock enable it to wind along the bottom of this torturous canyon while still maintaining its straight stretches and wide sweeping turns. A single strand of telephone wire is visible, suspended directly above the river while running up the canyon towards Sierra City. The canyon walls were so steep and rocky the telephone company found it easier to swing wire out over the middle of the stream than to carry it on poles along the canyon sides.

At Slate Castle, a short distance been built on a tiny ideally situated above Downieville, a cabin camp owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ed York, has flat. The guests are here fascinated by being permitted to wash some of the gravel for gold, which even the most amateurish novice does not fail to find. It is the site of an old homestead, settled in the early days of the gold rush, and its location holds you spellbound, as with the crystal clear Yuba river at your feet you look up and up— and up the almost vertical canyon walls.

The road continues, here and there crossing flashing streams that empty into the Yuba or bringing into view for brief instants cataracts tumbling down from the other side of the canyon. Up Secret Canyon, which empties into the Yuba, the mansion-like home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kerfoot can be seen high up on the mountain side. The precipice on the opposite side has now become very rocky and presents a sight that is as unique as it is beautiful. The entire wall from the river up to the crest appears to be solid rock and yet on every part of its precipitous surface a species of pine trees spring up out of the very rock. Climbing, the road leaves the river with its cataracts and waterfalls below and gives a view of the canyon that is indescribably beautiful. Within a few minutes we are pasing the camp grounds of the Mottini Brothers. Here the family has lived for many years and have now set up facilities for campers and others wishing cabins. It is impossible to have within the short space of this article a description of this thirteen mile canyon road.

Just a few moments after passing the Fouriner Ranch, perhaps the most picturesquely situated ranch in California, a turn is rounded and the majestic Sierra Buttes seem to pierce the sky line with their jagged saw-like peak. Passing the old and tiny settlement of Loganville we enter Sierra City, nestling at the very foot of the Sierra Buttes, which tower nearly a mile straight above.

PAIR FIND GRAVEL BAR THAT PANS OVER 50c TO THE PAN

According to first hand information received this week, Al Thorton and Al Jaynes, of French Corral, while prospecting on the river near Downieville last Tuesday, found a small bar of gravel that went fifty three and one-third cents per pan on the surface. Three pans netted them $1.60. They plan to work it as soon as weather conditions permit. The gravel was retorted at San Juan by Harry Haskin, who purchased the gold.

LEGION AUXILIARY READY FOR ANNUAL POPPY SALE

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will be out in full force on the streets of every community in the state Friday and Saturday, May 27th and 28th, selling paper replicas of the red Flanders memorial poppy to raise funds for the welfare of the living victims of the World War. Every worker will be a voluntee., donating her services to help make Poppy Day a success so that these unfortunates can be given sustenance for the coming year.

In California 300,000 poppies will be placed on sale. These poppies have been fashioned by the hands of disabled veterans in the Government hospitals at Presidio, San Francisco; Palto Alto, Mare Island, San Diego, San Fernando, Sawtelle, Yountville and the California Hut Work Room, Los Angeles. For each poppy made by these sufferers of the battlefields, three cents was paid by the Auxiliary. This money provides the disabled with comforts and necessities which the government does not provide and enables them to send a few dollars to their destitute families.

Veterans, according to government statistics, are dying at the rate of five every hour. This heavy death rate places a steadily increasing burden on the American Legion Auxiliary. Emergency aid must be given the families until they can be placed on a self-supporting basis. The finances for this work come largely from the sale of the red memorial poppies. To carry on this great relief program hundreds of thousands of dollars are necessary.

The women and children of disabled and deceased veterans are now paying the price of Amreica's World War victory in suffering, hardships and blighted opportunities. The poppy money is for these women and children. It is only by a generous public response to the Auxiliary's poppy sale that these innocent victims can be taken care of.

BRET HARTE DAIRY IS WINNER FOR SANITATION

One of the cleanest, most sanitary spots in this section of the country is the small, compact, but thoroughly complete Bret Harte Guernsey Dairy, owned and operated by U. S. N. Johnson of this city.

It is one of the show places for dairy men from all over the state and is so complete in its sanitation and cleanliness as to be dazzling to the eye upon entering the place. A large new model Kelvinator refrigerator keeps the milk at the proper temperature continuously and the modern sanitary bottle washer and sterilizer are amazingly clean in their operation. No motors, driving apparatus, or steam equipement is present inside the milk house, thereby keeping all machinery requiring the use of oil or grease and which are dirt collectors, out of direct contact with milk, bottles or workmen.

The milk is cooled, bottled, capped and made ready for delivery by the latest types of automatic machinery, thoroughly sterilized after each operation.

Mr. Johnson is to be congratulated and highly praised on the instalment of this new unit for the protection of his customers who depend on him for pure milk for their little ones as well as for their own consumption.

They were arrested about midnight Tuesday night by Deputy Sheriff Stanley McCormack and Traffic Officer A. J. Ponta, some nine miles east of Downieville. They were riding in the auto which they had stolen from Dr. J. R. Bell of this city Monday evening.

Poppy Day

Mrs. Edith R. Howarton, American Legion Auxiliary, State poppy chairman, shown with official proclamation from Governor Rolph designating "Poppy Day."

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow,
Between the crosses, row on row—"

On Memorial Day paper replicas of this little red memorial flower will be worn by thousands throughout the state. These symbols of those lives sacrificed and shattered while fighting for the flag will be sold in every community in California on May 27 and 28, by the American Legion Auxiliary.

The sale of the replicas of these poppies, which weave a crimson mantle above the graves of silent soldiers asleep beneath white crosses "over there," enables the Auxiliary to carry on its activities for the welfare of the dependents of disabled and dead veterans.

Need for this service consistently grows heavier each year. Veterans are dying every day and leaving families. Others are breaking down from the results of war injuries. The Auxiliary has a constantly growing task in looking after the welfare of these unfortunate victims of the war and asks a generous public response to the sale of the memorial red poppy on May 27 and 28.

METHODS AND COSTS OF WORKING SCHEELITE ORE

The concentration of low grade tungsten ore as carried on at the Silver Dike mill of the Nevada-Massachusetts Co., Inc., near Mina, Nevada, is described by William O. Vanderburg, asociate mining engineer, in Information Circular 6604, recently issued by the United States Bureau of Mines.

The mill has capacity to treat 45 tons of ore per day by tables, but operations at full capacity are handicapped by insufficient space for economical disposal of tailings and a scant water supply.

The ore occurs in quartz veins and is mined by a system of shrinkage stopes. The scheelite crystals are relatively coarse and the ore is fairly free of deleterious elements that affet the marketing of tungsten concentrates. However, pyrite and to a lesser extent manganese sulphide are present.

The ore is crushed to ¾ inch size by two crushers operating in a series it is reduced further to 12 mesh by two sets of rolls arranged in series. The primary rolls operate in closed circuit with a trommel having 7-16 inch holes and the secondary rolls with a 12 mesh screen.

The crushed product is sized by a 22-mesh screen; oversized and undersize products are concentrated by tables. The table concentrates are cleaned further by roasting followed by a magnetic separation of the iron sulphide.

For a two-month period of 1931 the mill treated an average of 24.2 tons of ore per day which contained 0.8 per cent of tungsten trioxide. It produced concentrates containing 73.4 per cent of tungsten trioxide, 0.17 per cent of sulphur and 0.003 per cent of copper. The recovery of tungsten was approximately 81 per cent and the concentration ratio amounted to 114 tons into 1. The milling cost during this period was $2.65 per ton of ore milled.

Experimental work on Silver Dike ore indicates that the scheelite can be recovered successfully by flotation methods.

Further details are given in In- and Costs of Concentrating Scheelite Ore at the Silver Dike Mill, Mineral County, Nevada, copies of which may be obtained free from the United States Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C.

HERE . . . AND THERE

(By W. L. D., Jr.)

Celebration or no celebration? That seems to be the more or less silent problem confronting Nevada Citians at present. Personally, I am for it—anything in the publicity line for Nevada City NOW will help a lot. This is the psychological moment for the camp to advertise in every way possible!

Wil someone please give one really valid reason why there are not a number of new homes being erected RIGHT NOW in Nevada City? Old Man Opportunity is always busiest knocking during times of depression—a proven fact. I have a suspicion the trouble here is that a few local knockers drown out the efforts of the old fellow.

Over in Auburn the Mine Owners' Association is preparing to gain a statewide membership, with widely separated offices to really ACT for the benefit of the whole mining industry, particularly for the little fellow—the actual finder of gold; and without profit. Every possible support should be accorded the asociation. It is incorporated under the laws of the state of California. It is planned to have an office in this district.

Berle Thomas, editor of the Placerville Daily Republican is out working hard for nomination to the state assembly. Berle is a square-shooter with a level head, and not tied down. I am for him without reservation. Anyway, more newspapermen (men who are in daily contact with all classes of citizens) and less lawyers (with all due respect to that very necessary calling) in the legislature and in Congress would be a change for the better, I believe. Couldn't be much worse! (At that, any kind of a politician or officeholder is all wrong during times of depression, or deflatation, or what have you).

What the west needs most is a few men who will rise up on their hind legs and put over a raise in the price of silver—or even gold.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MAKES RUN TO WANAMAKE HOME

Monday morning about nine o'clock the fire department answered a call from the alarm box near the high school to extinguish a blaze that had started near the stove pipe at the home of Mrs. S. Wanamake.

Several boys from the high school were the first to arrive on the scene. They formed a bucket brigade and by fast teamwork prevented what might have been a disastrous fire.

There was some delay in turning in the alarm by Mis Mamie Wanamake who, in her excitement, was unable to open the alarm box. When the department arrived the high school lads had the fire well under control and but little more water was necessary to thoroughly extinguish the blaze.

Owing to th emany people who are not familiar with the opening of an alarm box we sugest the following rule be studied closely:

First break the thin glass on the small outer box which contains the key; give the latter a quarter turn to the right and the door will open, disclosing a lever which should be pulled clear down once and released. The alarm will then automatically commence.

A THOUGHT FOR THE EVENING

The sun that throws a golden ray
As it goes down at end of day,
Suggests tomorrow's apt to be
A day that's bright—and good to see.
But if instead of being bright,
The sun is hidden from our sight,
As daylight dies, enwrapped in shrouds,
Tomorrow's apt to dawn with clouds.

And if when I retire at night,
My heart be filled with hate and spite—
The coming day I'm apt to start
With ugliness still in my heart.
But if my temper, though, is sweet,
At evening-time—next day I'll meet
A smiling dawn of golden ray,
That's apt to bring a happy day!

"No, sah," replied the porter. "I told 'em you-all was single!"

THE MATTRESS OF THE YEAR

Karr No. 176X . . . Inner-spring Construction

It has class, beauty, comfort—of the sort that lasts and lasts. We could, by all the usual standards, sell it for around forty dollars. It's that good!

Inside of this mattress is a retempered all-steel Karr spring construction with baked japan finish. Permanently locked coils alternate in right and left direction so as to always maintain an even, non-sagging surface. Any mattress man will tell you that this ype of spring unit is the last word in quality. YOU NEVER FIND THE KARR INNER-SPRING IN A CHEAP MATTRESS.

Shop if you will . . . but don't expect to find the equal of "Nineteen Thirty-two" for less money. We assure you that both ourselves and the maker nave gone to the very limit in offering this mattress at $19.32. The approval of the Master Bedding Makers of America is, like our endorsement, your guarantee of absolute satisfaction.

WHEN WILL PATIENCE CEASE TO BE A VIRTUE?

The American people are a gullible, patient and long suffering people.

The are willing to believe almost anything that comes out of Washington; or if they do not actually believe it, they are willing to accept it and at least give it a trial.

But fifteen short years ago they "gave until it hurt," millions of men and billions of dollars.

Since then they have submitted to "noble experiments;" they have put faith in idealistic promises that have proved fallacious; they have seen and tolorated stupid blundering they have seen their country plundered of its natural resources, bled white of its monetary resources in order that highly organized international financial interests may make a profit; out of work, forced to accept charity in a land of untold wealth; they have seen thousnds upon thousands of able bodied men high places; they have seen men in high estate put their own selfish, greedy, grasping interest above the nation's welfare THREY HAVE SEEN CRIME, TAKING ADVANTAGE OF FANATICAL IDEALISM, REAR ITS GRISLY PUTRID HEAD IN EVERY CORNER OF THE LAND, DEFYING THE PUNY EFFORTS OF HALF-HEARTED AUTHORITY TO PUT IT DOWN!

Never in the history of this nation has there been the brazen defiance, the utter contempt shown for the law and order that exists today.

We have seen commissions named to investigate and report upon this and that and the other.

These commissions have spent much time and much o the people's money, and have accomplished nothing.

We have seen people taxed out of their homes in orde that wasteful extravagance may publicly continue.

We have seen gangster murderers glorified in thei murdering; we have seen children shot down by machine gu fire on public streets; WE HAVE BUT RECENTLY SEE A HELPLESS BABE TAKEN FROM ITS CRIB AN MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD!

We have a picture of a judge, a former defender of prosti tutes and panderers, reverse himself that a miserable degenerate, a proven violator of little girls, might be saved from just punishment.

All of these things the American people have seen, and they still are patient!

How long will that supine patience last?

In our father's day, in 1849 and again in 1865, when lawlessness grew rampart and threatened to overcome law and order and the sanctity of the home, patience ceased to be a virtue and crime was met by summary action.

How long will the patience of the American people hold out in the fact of the present orgy of vice, of crime, of plundering greed, and of blind and misguided fanatacism?

How long will it be, unless those in unlimited power bring about an orderly and intelligent change for the better, until a wave of bitter resentment sweeps the country and causes the people to fight fire with fire?

Cannot our public servants in control of governmental powers see the handwriting on the wall and work to the social and economical readjustment of affairs that will mean a rebirth of confidence in our country and respect for law?

Or must they wait, playing politics, until a white hot flame of resentment and revolt burns the fetters of patience, and determined people again battle for life, liberty and pursuit of happiness!—Carpenteria Valley Facts.

VACATION COMING

"In spite of the beneficial effect of the remedial measures already taken, and the gradual improvment in fundamental conditions, fear and alarm prevail in the country because of events in Washington which have greatly disturbed the public mind," says President Hoover.—Los Angeles Times.

"Overworked Congressmen should cheer up. Many of them will be granted two-year vacations by the voters next November."—Portland, Oregon, News-Telegram.

NO INCOME TAX ON GOLD MINING

Bill No. 180 has been introduced in the House of Representatives proposing to relieve gold mining from income taxation. Proponents of the measure say that such taxation relief would serve as a big stimulus to gold mining in the United States. From 1904 to 1827 the annual production of gold in the United States was around $90,000,000. It has subsequently declined, the last year approximated only $40,000,000.

Eighty-three years ago gold was discovered in California—No matter how much a nation may be worth or can produce it is not regarded as solvent unless it has about so much gold. Even Soviet Russia has found it necessary to create a gold reserve.
